

Free Accounting Software?

Let us provide you with a fully-supported Accounting software package for up to 100 of your clients' businesses with no annual fee.

Accredited by The ICPA (www.icpa.org.uk) and used by accountants and businesses across the country, our software can provide multi-company bookkeeping through to full business management solutions.

We will give you 5 licences for our highly-acclaimed Prelude Professional Accounts package to resell to your clients.

We will give you a licence for our Accounts Edition package for your own use for up to 100 of your clients' businesses.

We will give you quality telephone and remote support plus free software updates.

All we ask is a one-off fee of £200 from which, over a 12 month period, you could see a return of £300, meaning that your software will have cost you nothing.

Why Should I Change My Software?

- Accounting software for 100 companies at no cost to you
- Award-nominated software for your clients that is easy to use
- Seamless upgrades as business needs change
- Or are you simply fed up with your current supplier?

We charge a modest £10 per month for each copy of Prelude that you register for a client. If you were to charge a client £15 per month to use the software, you would make £60 margin per client per year. Five clients = £300 margin per year.

You get free accounting software for 100 companies. Your clients get an intuitive product with low training overheads and enjoy the continuing software development that makes Diamond Discovery the natural choice for business management software.
